Academics

Principal

Mr. Walter F. Beckman

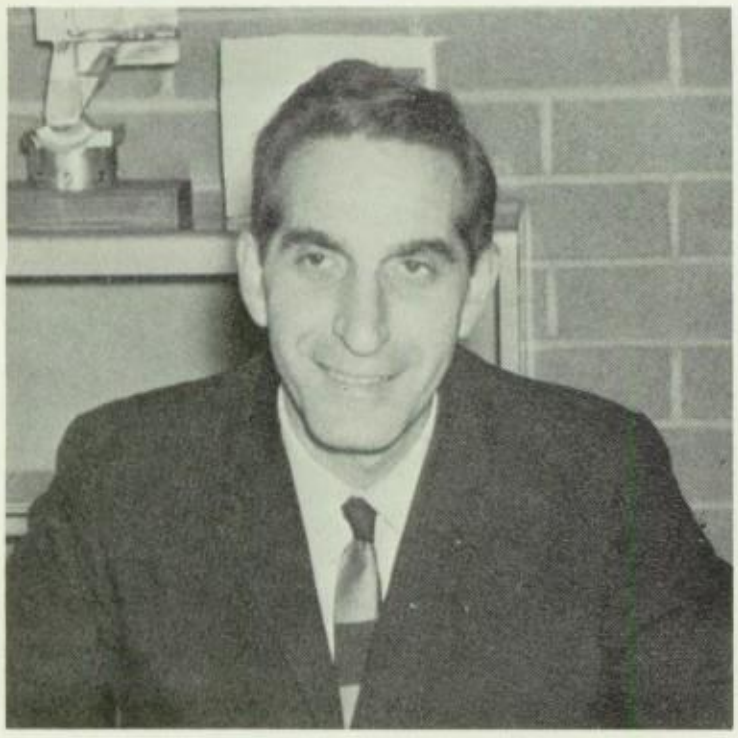
Troy is truly "a school on the move." Our student body, faculty, and educational program reflect excellence. Your dedication, creativity, and spirit have combined to make Troy a leader among secondary schools throughout the nation.

My congratulations to the Class of 1967! I am sure that this yearbook will reflect the many happy experiences that you may have had in attaining your goals. Many responsibilities and obligations of our society must now fall on you. Our fervent hope is that your education will better help you meet the many challenges ahead.

To be associated with Troy High School and our fine student body has been a privilege and a most rewarding experience for me. I wish you all success in the ensuing years.

Walter K. Beckman
Principal

School Administrators



Mr. Robert Brown
Dean of Instruction

Mr. John Seeland
Dean of Guidance

Mr. James Book
Administrative Intern

Much of the credit for the efficient operation of Troy this year should go to our school administrators. These five men spent many hours coordinating the curriculum and activities of the school. Continually on the go, they were seen often around campus making sure things were running smoothly. To these men we express our sincere gratitude for their hard work in our behalf.

Mr. Richard Bartholome
Administrative Assistant

Mr. H. L. Looney
Dean of Students and Vice Principal

The Board of Trustees is the initial and final source of authority for everything that goes on at Troy.

Under the direction of the superintendent, Dr. Leonard J. Murdy, the district administrators' work, though seldom seen by the students at Troy, was essential to the operation of the school. We thank them for their long hours of work in our behalf.

District Administrators

FULLERTON UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT BOARD OF TRUSTEES — STANDING: Mr. Walter E. Smith, Mrs. Nicholas A. Begovich, Clerk. SEATED: Dr. Emblen N. Cooke, M.D., Mr. Franklin Sullivan, President; Mr. Merrill K. Steele.

Counselors

Mr. James Bass
Freshman Counselor

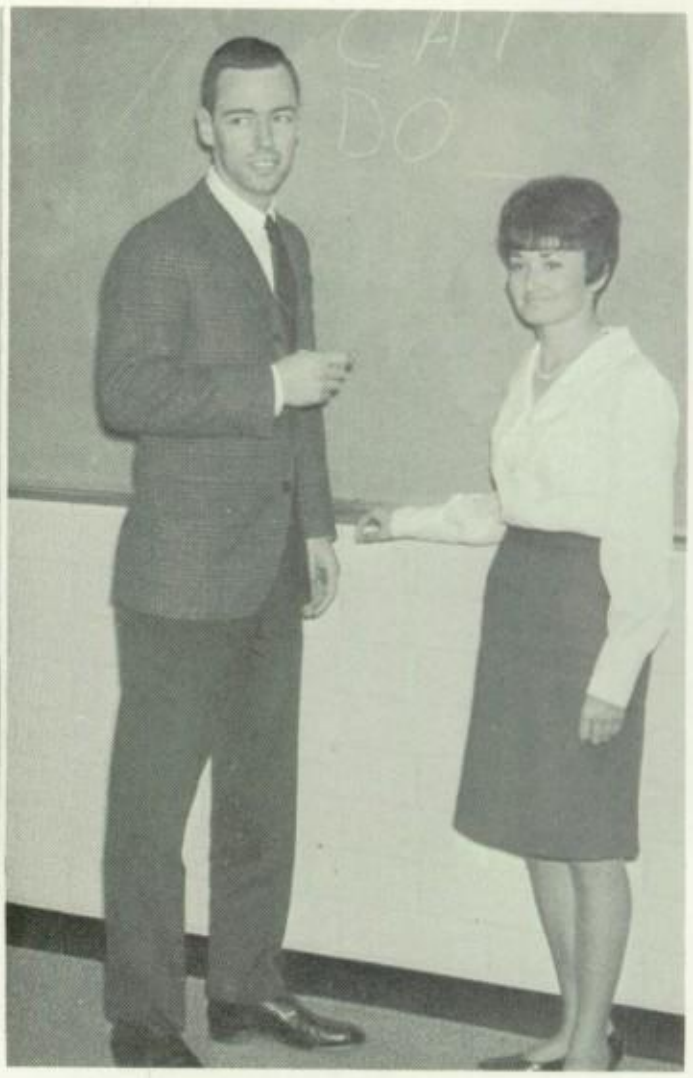
Mrs. Donna Nelson
Sophomore Counselor

Mrs. Jean Kelleher
Senior Counselor

Now that Troy is a four year high school we have a full size counseling staff. Each counselor has his or her own responsibilities depending on the class. Mr. Bass and Mrs. Nelson, who are freshman and sophomore counselors respectively, deal mostly with scheduling and personal counseling. Mrs. Gobar, the junior counselor, arranged the visits of college representatives to our campus. She also helped her juniors plan careers and select colleges. Mrs. Kelleher, the senior counselor, has been busy filling out recommendations and arranging transcripts for her college bound seniors. All four counselors will be well remembered for their helpfulness and understanding.

Mrs. Sally Gobar
Junior Counselor

Mrs. Janet Wright, Senior English; Mr. Duncan Johnson, Chairman of the English Department, Senior English; Mrs. Barbara Watts, Senior English.



Mr. James Tillman, Sophomore English; Mrs. Ruth Dehling, Sophomore English.

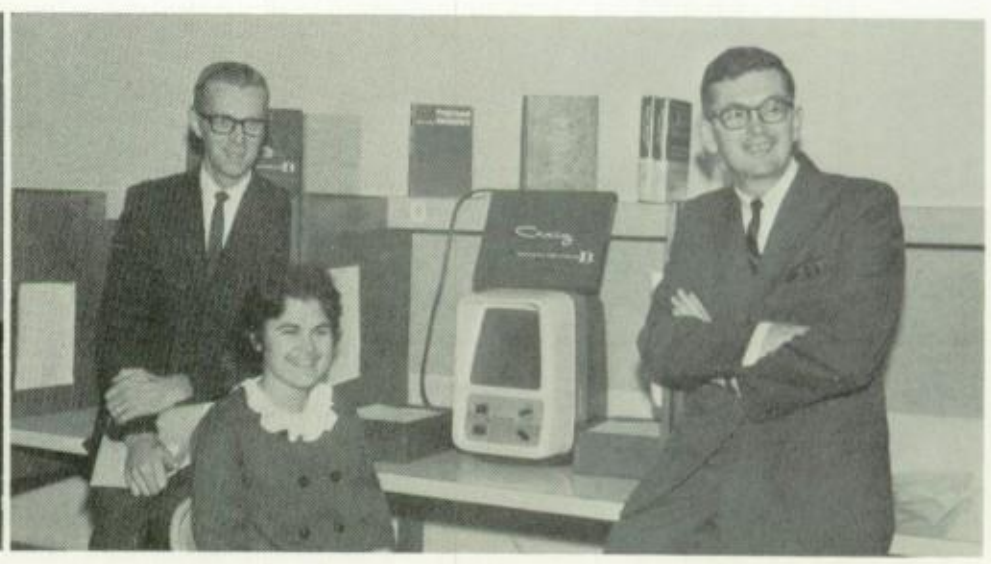
English

Our English Department is different. The teachers have dropped the traditional classroom system and are using more modern approaches to education. First, they encourage students to accept the responsibility to learn on their own as they can with independent study projects and the study pool. Our teachers try to place the students in an active role in the English class by having small informal discussions. The English teachers vary their schedules and assignments to provide for individual differences and to make English more interesting for all students.

Miss Deanne Hacker, Reading Lab; Mrs. Virginia DeFlon, Sophomore English.



Mr. John Hyma, Freshman English; Mrs. Suellen Beller, Freshman English; Mr. James Jensen, Freshman English.

Mrs. Jessie Lyons, World History; Mr. James Fournell, World History, Economics.

Mr. Warren Bowen, Economics, Publications; Mr. James Higgins, Civics.

Social Science

No more traditionally dull history classes for Troy students. Our Social Science Department has taken a new approach to studying history. The teachers feel that we should learn by topics, such as the Westward movement, religion, art, or music and trace each topic as a thread through history. World History and U.S. History teachers have used a "round robin" system of Team Teaching to give the students a variety of attitudes and approaches. Civics and Economics classes are primarily to help the students solve practical and theoretical problems of citizenship. Civics and Economics teachers assigned Independent Study Projects to interested and able students. Special guest speakers, musicians, and clergymen were a part of this year's programs that made social sciences colorful and vivid.

Mr. Bernard Weiner, World History, Modern European History; Miss Kathryn Smith, Economics; Mr. Gene Beaver, U.S. History.

Mr. Joseph Kasun, U.S. History, Civics; Mr. Keith Terry, U.S. History.

Mr. David Coerper, Chairman of the Social Science Department, World History, Modern World History; Mr. Ben Rogers, World History, World Geography.

Miss Sharon Galloway, Algebra-Geometry, Art I; Mrs. Annetta Sands, Algebra-Geometry; Mrs. Clarice Blamer, Algebra-Geometry.

Mr. Gordon Fenters, Algebra I, II; Mr. George Powell, Trigonometry, General Math; Mr. Volker Ludwig, Algebra-Geometry, Math Analysis, General Math.

Mr. Harold Hill, Physics, General Math; Mr. Keith Jorgensen, Chemistry.

Math and Science

The world today is becoming more oriented toward science and its partner, math. Mankind is aiming for the moon, curing cancer and splitting atoms. The students at Troy will be well prepared to take their places in this age of science miracles. With the use of such textbooks as the UICSM math books and the CHEM Study chemistry books, and innovations like the math lab classroom technique, our teachers are starting the training of the astronauts, doctors, and engineers of tomorrow.

Not Pictured: Mr. Ronald Sipple, General Math.

Mr. Ernest Koch, Chairman of Math and Science Department, Biology; Mr. Glenn Robb, General Life Science, Earth Science.

Miss Linda Skursch, Biology; Mr. Marshall Blaufarb, Life and Physical Science, General Math, Biology.

Mr. Don Roesner, Russian I, II, German I; Mrs. Ethel Drapkin, French I, II, III.

Miss Catheryn Hoehn, French I, II, IV; Mrs. Liselotte Thom, German II, III, IV.

Foreign Language

Taking a foreign language is a way of traveling throughout the world without taking a step. A student can look into the culture of a different and perhaps distant nation by studying the language, for a country's language is an inseparable part of the daily life of its people. Temporarily becoming a Frenchman, a German or perhaps a Russian, a student can grow to have a feeling of understanding and tolerance toward people of other nations.

Mr. Thomas Hewitson, Chairman of Foreign Language Department, Spanish I, II, IV.

Mrs. Maria Munoz, Spanish I, II, III.

Mr. Tom Moore, Drama.

Mrs. Peggy Hugenberger, Art.

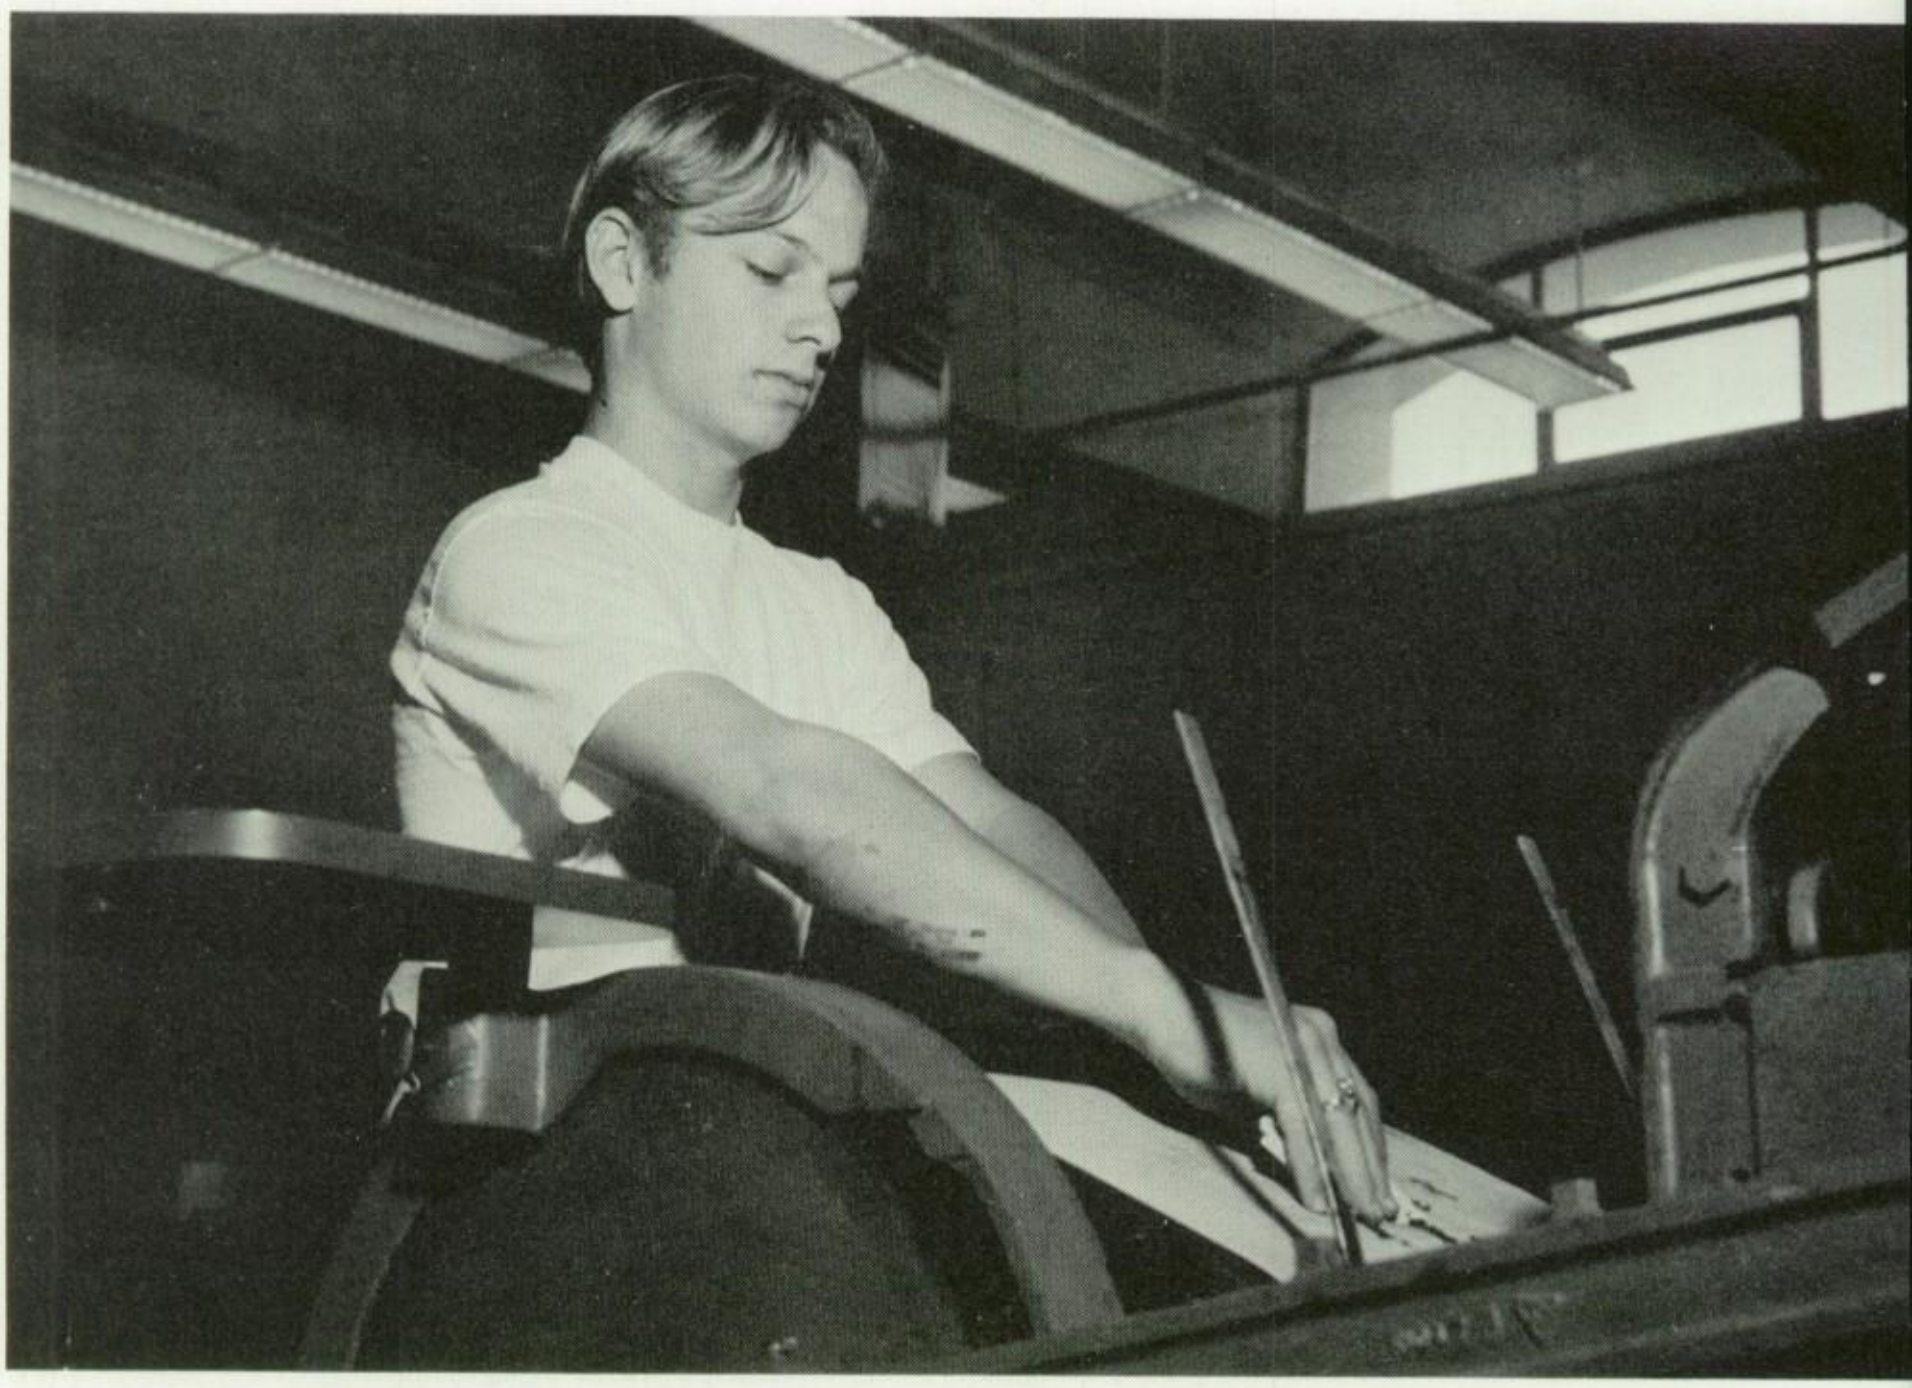
Fine Arts

Our school teaches more than the three R's. It is also a means by which the creative interests of an individual can be developed. The Fine Arts Department guides our students, and inspires them to express themselves through the arts. An individual can enrich his background and become a more well rounded person by participating in the many music concerts and festivals, drama productions, as "The Miracle Worker," or "The Crucible," or programs working with the various medias of art, such as sculpture, oil paints, and sketches. The teachers in this department must be sensitive and inspirational in order to guide students in the creative field of arts.

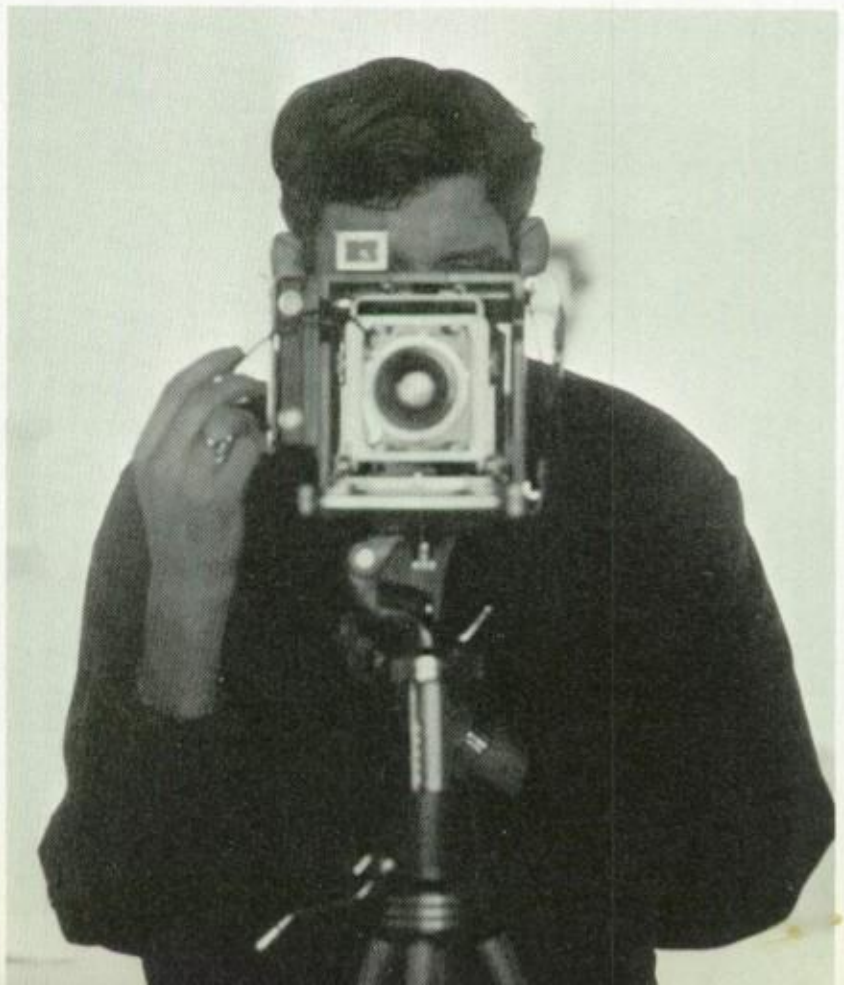
Mr. Herman Boodman, Drama, Speech, Journalism.

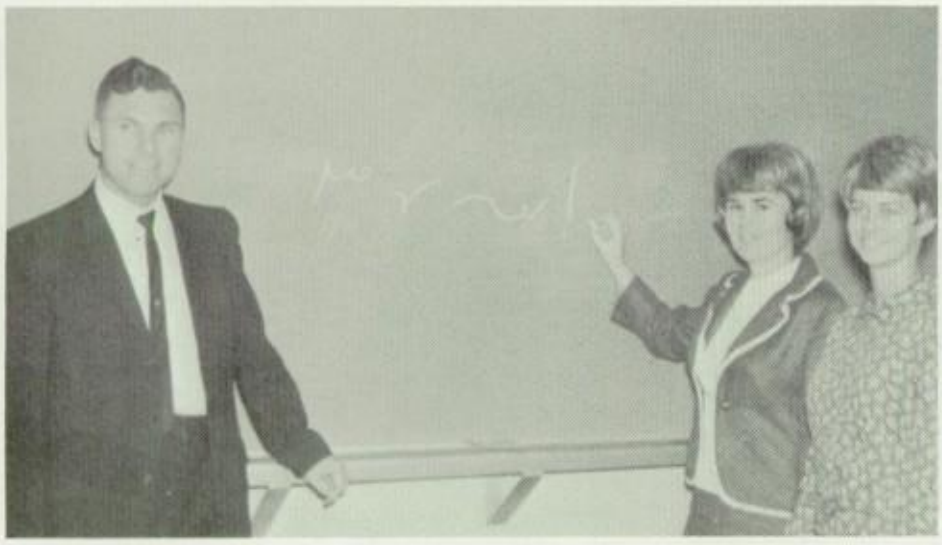
Mr. James Young, Chairman of the Fine Arts Department, Concert Choir, Girls' Choir, Vocal Ensemble; Mr. David Hamlin, Girls' Glee, Orchestra, Band, Marching Band.

Mr. Dale Halberg, Art; Mrs. Joyce Ploennies, Art.



Portrait of Practical Arts





Mr. Merrill Durfee, General Business, Bookkeeping, Typing; Mrs. Beverly Frannea, Office Practice, Shorthand; Mrs. Mary Ann Barnett, General Business, Business Managemnt, Typing.

Mrs. Eileen Carlson, Home Economics, Foods; Miss Crystal Drenberg, Home Economics, Clothing; Mrs. Norma Takesian, Home Economics, Foods.

Practical Arts

Troy has taken the lead in developing an outstanding Practical Arts Department which offers training in basic skills. Our Practical Arts Department includes such areas as shorthand, auto mechanics, and drafting. Although these classes are designed primarily for students interested in these occupations, some vocational classes should be a part of everyone's high school education. We have acquired a fine Practical Arts Department, and as a result, Troy is a more well rounded school.

Mr. Lloyd McFarland, Auto Shop; Mr. Arvin Sethman, Exploratory Shop, Wood Shop; Mr. Jerry Miltenberger, Drafting.

Mrs. Eloise Heaton, Typing.

Mr. Bruce Dobson, Chairman of the Practical Arts Department, Exploratory Shop, Graphic Arts; Mr. Ron Garland, Exploratory Shop, Electronics; Mr. Fred Davis, Metal Shop, Auto Shop.

Mr. Gary Pickens, Boys' P.E., Drivers' Training, Sports; Mr. Jerry Hulbert, Boys' P.E., Drivers' Training, Sports.

Mr. David Gibbs, Boys' P.E., Drivers' Training, Sports; Mr. Robert Zehntner, Boys' P.E., Drivers' Training, Sports.

Physical Education

"The effectiveness and creativity of the individual must rest, in large measure, on his physical fitness and vitality." These are the words of our late president, John F. Kennedy. His Physical Fitness Program has become a challenge to our country and Troy has accepted this challenge to make every student more physically fit.

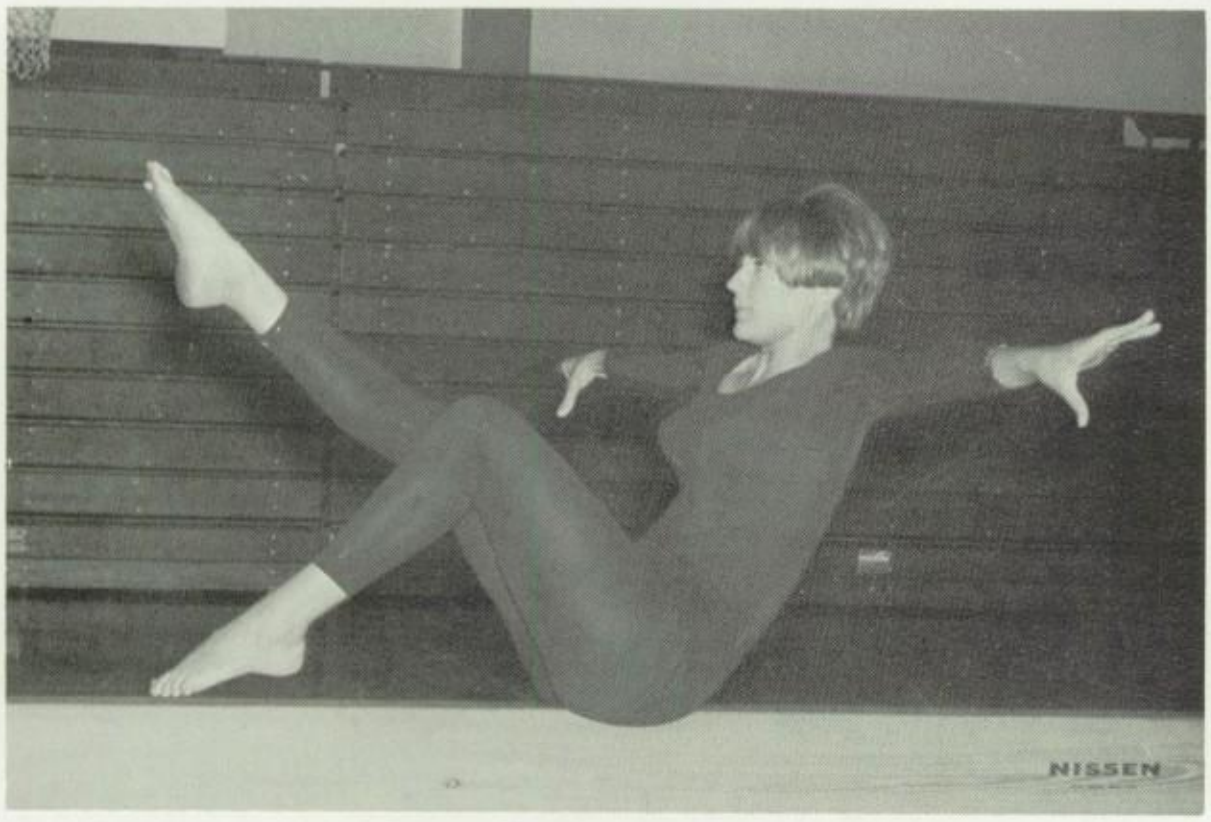
Our Girls' P.E. program is interesting and creative because of such innovations as the elective program for upperclassmen. The P.E. Department strives to keep the boys in top physical condition. Their classes are active, and their workouts strenuous.

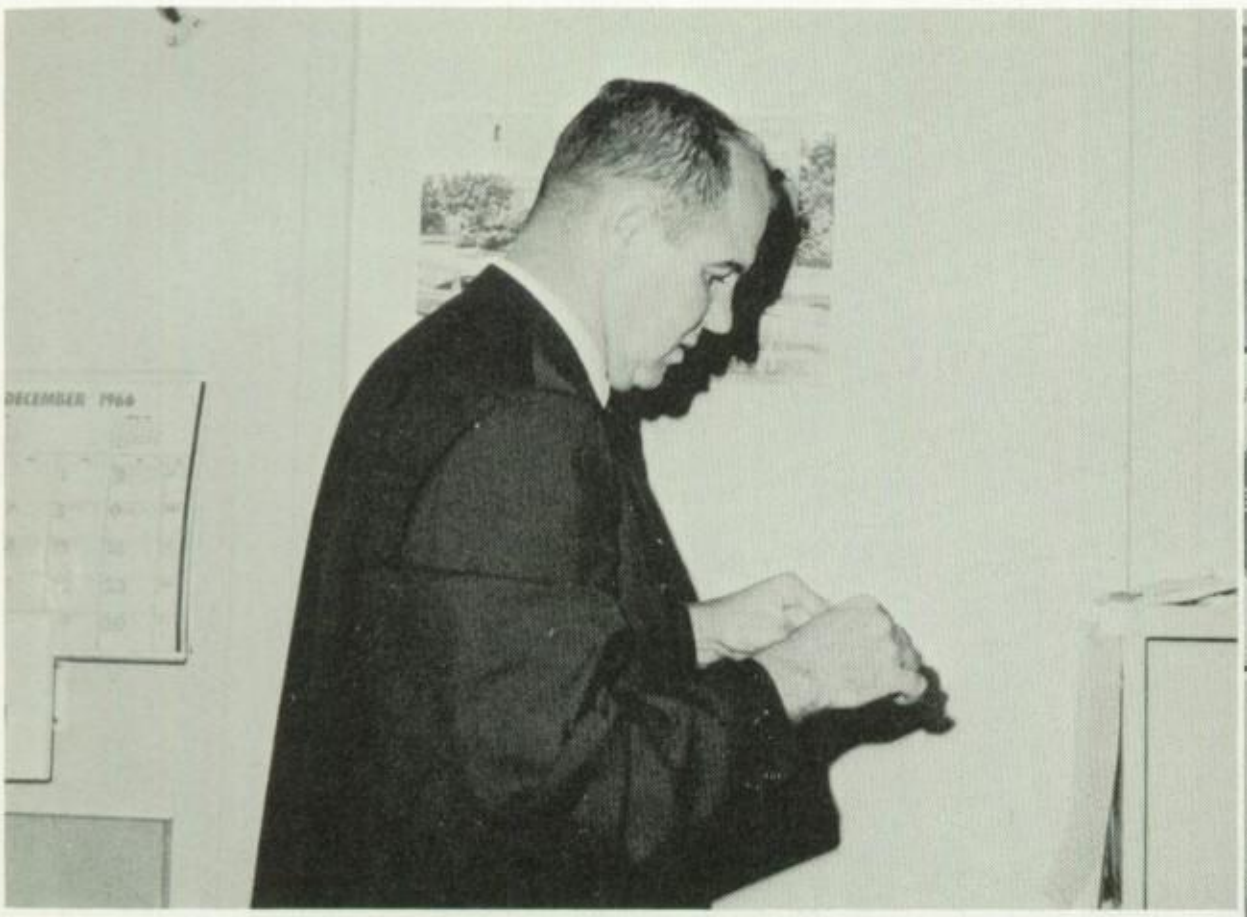
The teachers in this department are teaching physical fitness but more important, they are teaching us to enjoy physical activity which is basic to answering John F. Kennedy's challenge.

Miss Grace Reilly, Chairman of Girls' P.E. Department, Girls' P.E., Drill Team Advisor; Mrs. Maija Paegle, Girls' P.E., Advanced Modern Dance.

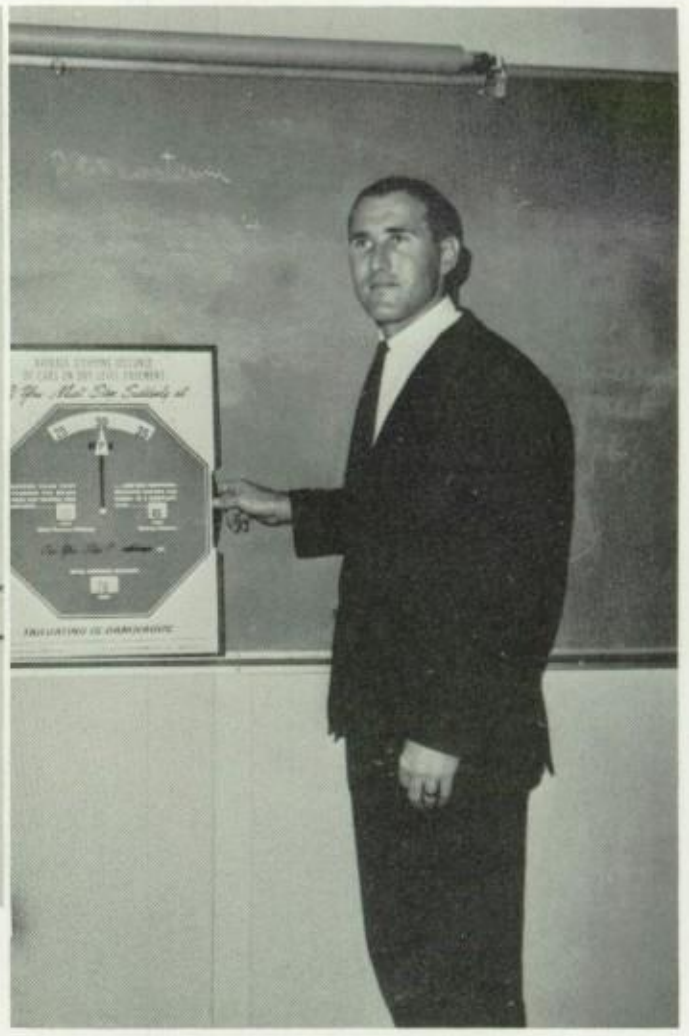
Mr. George Vallance, Speech, Health and Safety, Sports; Mr. Don Bryant, Chairman of Boys' P.E. Department, Boys' P.E., Sports.

Portrait of Physical Education





Mr. Don Symmes, Chairman of Health and Drivers' Education Department, Drivers' Education, Health Education.



Mr. Dave Test, Drivers' Education, Health Education.

Health and Driver's Education

The day a teenager applies for his drivers license is an important day in his life. It is the day both his parents and an impersonal state government feel he is ready to handle a car. The aim of the Drivers' Education Department is to prepare him for that responsibility.

To drive well, students must have the proper knowledge. These teachers work, not only to produce the safe, efficient and economical drivers of tomorrow, but also to promote a healthy attitude toward the responsibilities of driving in their students.

Not Pictured: Mr. Curt Curtis, Drivers' Education, Health Education.

Mrs. Virginia Aldridge, Orthopedically Handicapped Students; Mrs. Mary Jordon, Teacher Aide for Orthopedically Handicapped Students.

Miss Helen Walker, Nurse.

Special Departments

The three women who are a special part of the staff at Troy are the nurse, and the two orthopedically handicapped students' teachers. Being the nurse for a school as large as Troy is a tremendous job. Most people think of her as the person who gives first aid in case of accident. They do not realize that a major part of her work is preventive rather than corrective work.

Troy is the first high school in Orange County to include handicapped students right along with its regular students in class. Mrs. Aldridge and Mrs. Jordon make this possible. The orthopedics room is referred to as the resource room. Here the students receive individual help with assignments if it is needed. The teachers also conduct regular curriculum classes, such as science, that would be difficult for the students to take in a regular classroom.

Mrs. Geneva Harrod, Principal's Secretary; Mrs. Penny Weinmann, Attendance Clerk; Mrs. Hazel Sorensen, Dean of Guidance's Secretary.

Office Staff

If a student has to clear an absence, make a morning announcement, or perhaps get a guest card, he goes to "the office." The office staff is an essential part of the behind-the-scene machinery of Troy. They handle all the paper work connected with grades, attendance, activities and the other widely diversified operations of a large high school.

Mrs. Helen McCamish, Clerk-Typist; Mrs. Shirley Bouse, Clerk-Typist; Mrs. Jo Smith, Dean of Students' and Administrative Assistant's Secretary.

Library Staff

Books are the keys to a boundless world of adventure. A person can visit another planet, examine the causes of World War I or live the lives of famous men through the aid of a book. The library staff is there to help readers find and enjoy these other worlds. Not only are they a guidance to the student body and faculty but they are also in charge of the tremendous task of issuing textbooks.

Miss Jennie Keith, Librarian.

Mrs. Clara Wright, Library-Textbook Clerk; Mrs. Tula Mathia, Clerk-Typist.

Mrs. White, Mrs. Markle, Mrs. Parrish.

Teacher Aides

The teacher aides this year have been an indispensible help to teachers and students of Troy. Because they take care of such jobs as grading and administering tests, supervising classes and typing assignment sheets, the teachers were able to spend more time with their students.

Cafeteria Staff

Mrs. Esposito, Mrs. Worley, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Drott. NOT PICTURED: Mrs. Loomis.

Maintenance

Although the Cafeteria Staff, Bus Drivers, and Custodians seemed to be part of the scenery at Troy, they have really provided a great many services for the general student body. However "seemingly small" their roles, they were indispensible to the smooth function of our daily campus life.

Freshman Class

Our Freshman Class has had more difficulty than is usual in becoming an active part of their high school, due to the fact that our Senior Class has been on top for three years and is pretty hard to compete with. However, being super-excellent students with lots of determination they have become such an important part of Troy that they could not be ignored. They could be found in many areas of student activity; student government, drama production, orchestra, chorus, and sports. It is quite encouraging to know that Troy will have such fine leaders to continue its growth in the future.

Junior Class

Tradition plays a major part in every high school. Because of tradition, freshmen have always been accustomed to the general heckling from the upperclassmen. But when Troy first opened her doors, tradition had to be ignored. Being closely tied to the one class above them, the Class of 1968 became a part of Troy's upperclassmen. Yet, the plight of tradition had to end. Decisively Troy's Junior class had reached the customary requirements of being an upperclassman, and legally earned their title. Tradition had regained itself and will always remain here permanently at Troy.

The student body officers formed the core of the executive board which is the main force in our student government. Other members in addition to the A.S.B. officers were the class presidents, Doug Lowe, Mike Fletcher, Dave Blasdell, and Brad Sands; Chief Justice Bob Philips; and president protem of the Student Congress, Mike Boyle. Working with the administration, this body of people planned and arranged the activities for the school. They helped make the year more enjoyable with a good assortment of dances, assemblies, and of course our long sought and finally attained open campus.

Student Conduct Board

Bob Philips
Chief Justice

The Student Conduct Board was the judicial branch of student government. Its primary aim was to help students understand and appreciate the need for following rules and courteous conduct. Headed by Bob Philips, the board held hearings for students who they felt were disobedient or oblivious to laws set down by the student body, and discussed behavior problems with them. In this way, students developed trust and respect for the board and felt they could talk with it without concern about administrative discipline.

Brenda Barham
Chairman, I.C.C.

This year, with Troy's student body numbering over 2,000, there have been more clubs functioning on campus than ever before. The I.C.C. was headed by Brenda Barham and consisted of all campus club presidents. This leadership group was organized so that presidents could congregate to find new and better ways to arouse students' interests in their respective clubs and increase their memberships. The presidents also strove to create more enticing activities, not only for their own clubs, but for the school as a whole. One such activity was the faculty talent show, which was organized by the I.C.C.

The Student Congress was composed of representatives from Social Science or Sophomore English classes and was the contact each student body member had with the student government. Presided over by A.S.B. Vice President, Steve Hart, the Student Congress was concerned with giving a real opportunity to every student in school to voice his problems and suggestions through an elected representative.

In its second year of existence, Interact under the guidance of their advisor, Mr. Beaver, continued service to the school and community. It was affiliated with and sponsored by the Rotary Club, Fullerton South, which helped guide the club in community service. One such project was putting up tree lights on Harbor Blvd. at Christmas time.

Although community service was important, school service was equally important. The club helped with new student orientation in September and members were seen regularly ushering at assemblies. Their most noteworthy project, however, was sponsorship of the faculty talent show which was to raise funds for an exchange student.

Troiades members, Debbi Smith and Carol Swain, helped raise money for International Club.

Troiades, the young women of Troy, was a club organized in the spirit of service to the school. Gaining momentum this year the club organized and executed a Big-Little Sister program for freshman girls and helped with new student orientation at the beginning of the year. They also helped the P.T.A. with the Back to School Night for the parents. In October the club sponsored a Halloween dance. Then in its true spirit of service, Troiades helped raise funds for International Club. Like all clubs, their advisors Mrs. Watts and Mr. Hyma were vital to the existence of the club.

Advisor

This 1967 Annual ILIUM was produced under the leadership of Marilyn Wilson and the understanding advice of Mr. Bowen. With these two to lead the way, seventeen other students gave up their time not only in the publications class which met sixth period each day, but also outside of school hours to make this 1967 ILIUM the largest and most complete in Troy's history. The pleasures of being a member of the annual staff, together with the headaches of rushing to meet a deadline, offered many rewarding and unforgettable experiences.

This year's newspaper staff was headed by Editor Meg McNelly, and advised by Mr. Boodman. Working diligently to publish the ORACLE, the staff met in two classes, first and second periods each day. The staff was divided into categories such as first, second, and third pages, sports, art, advertising, and copy and proof reading. These groups carried out their assignments to fill the newspaper with a variety of interesting pictures and articles which kept the student body up-to-date on campus activities.

The Miracle Worker

Those who viewed "The Miracle Worker" were pleasantly surprised by the distinctive new talents displayed in the poignant play. The team work of the cast and technical staff resulted in a highly successful production. The play movingly conveyed the story of Helen Keller's transition from a world of darkness into the light of reality under the guidance of her teacher Annie Sullivan. The sensitive mood of the play was especially enhanced by the excellent use of lighting as shown by the photographs. "The Miracle Worker" will always be a beautiful memory both to those who worked on it and those who saw it.

Thespians

In preparation for the "Pantomime Show," Tom North helped Julie Mock with her make-up.

The Thespian Club has been among the most active groups at Troy. Its membership, which includes people interested in both acting and the back-stage technical work, has done much to promote dramatic productions on campus. Their various projects included: "The Lunch Box Theatre," Troy's own "Radio Free Oz" production, an oral interpretation program, sponsorship of the District Drama Festival, and helping with the Faculty and Student Talent Shows. The Thespians have also done much to encourage creativity in the more academic classes at Troy. For example, they presented a highly dramatized version of the Scope's Trial (taken from "Inherit the Wind") to complement a study of religion in the history department. Then, in the latter part of the year, they aided the English department by presenting "Canyons of the Mind"—a series of poetic readings by such talented drama students as Chris Nakazawa, Gary LeGault, and Cheryl Cathers. The finale of their activities was the Awards Assembly based on Hollywood's Academy Awards. The Thespians rated their members to determine the recipients of the awards. The success of this organization has been obvious and its worth well proven.

Students interested in forensics have made quite a name for themselves and Troy in various speech and debate tournaments held in the Fullerton District this past year. Most of the members of this talkative group qualified for the National Forensics League when they made the necessary 25 points by scoring high in the competition. Each year a National High School Debate Topic is chosen and debates are centered on this topic. The members of the Debate Team were prepared especially well on this year's topic: "Should the U.S. Continue to Administer Foreign Military Aid?" Orange County Speech League Tournaments were won by both novice and varsity members of the Forensics Club.

Mrs. Wright, Forensics Advisor, discussed results with debators Jim Sheridan, R. Scott Birdsall, Pat Behrens, Roger Hickman, and Don Van Atta.

Christmas

The Seniors decorated their tall flocked tree with red and silver ornaments.

Adorned with wooden "candles" and red bulbs, the Junior tree was judged the best.

John Whittaker was a popular Santa.

Rich Hogbin crowned Queen Renee.

Teachers sang carols at the assembly.

Unique was the key word for Christmas at Troy. The Junior Class won the tree decorating contest, but for some reason the Senior tree stood in the center of the floor at the Christmas dance. The Y-Teens increased their treasury, but the teachers had a difficult time trying to persuade students not to eat the candy canes in class. A "voluntary" assembly featured our various talented music groups—and somehow a band of carol-singing teachers appeared. After several unsuccessful attempts, Football Captain Rich Hogbin finally placed the tricky crown on Queen Renee Sonners' head. What was the cause of these apparent disasters? . . . the wonderful Christmas spirit at Troy!

Spirit

Pine cones added an interesting touch of nature to the beautiful Sophomore Tree.

The Freshman Tree complimented the "Old Fashioned Christmas" theme through the use of "fireproofed" cookies and strings of popcorn.

Troy's second literary magazine was produced by a small, dedicated volunteer staff and the creative efforts of the student body at large. It represented, as the staff had hoped and planned, the best creative writing producd at Troy. All phases of creative writing were presented including poetry, essays, and short stories.

The staff worked under the advice of Mrs. Barbara Watts and the guidance of Jim Vanderheide, editor-in-chief and original founder of the Literary Magazine. The staff was chosen by a committee of students who expressed interest in the magazine.

The staff's first concern was to promote student contributions and interest. A publicity campaign of posters and announcements was begun. The Masked Lit Mag and Footnote were born and immediately became the symbol of this year's Literary Magazine. Contributions began to pour in.

The staff considered all pieces and chose those they felt to be the best for publication in the 1967 Literary Magazine. Printing of the magazine was done by Troy's graphic arts department.

The Science Club, one of the more profound and intellectual clubs on campus, endeavored to realize some of the concepts of inner and outer space. Searching for knowledge about the universe, they viewed films produced by NASA, "visited" the ocean by the way of the films of Jaque Ives Costeau, and visited the U.S. Divers Inc., a large producer of aquatic diving equipment. The Science Club also spent a great deal of time stargazing, topped off with a field trip to Griffith Park Observatory. The club also sold mistletoe before Christmas vacation to enhance the Christmas season and to finance their active year.

Spanish Club

"Language is an art, and a glorious one whose influence extends over all others . . . " (Tooke).

Through the study of different languages, the language clubs have strived to achieve the goal of deeper understanding of different nations. This year the combined forces of the language clubs and the International Club inaugurated a new program to establish a scholarship for the most outstanding foreign language student.

There was a lighter side of the individual club activities. For German Club it was a Christmas party. For Spanish Club it was several dime-a-dip dinners. For French Club it was a movie and going out to eat at a French restaurant. For Latin Club it was their annual Roman Banquet. On the whole this year was a busy and most profitable one for these four active clubs.

Girl Date

"Moonlight and Roses" was the theme for the Girl Date Dance. The "old" gym was barely recognizable, for it was transformed by the Y-Teens into a beautiful garden of red, pink, and white paper roses. Small individual refreshment tables, each adorned with a rose bud, gave the illusion of a Parisian sidewalk cafe. Couples danced to the music of the "Moonglows" from nine until the enchanting hour of midnight.

Y-Teens

Busy is the word for the Y-Teens. These girls, devoted to their cause, have spent endless hours of their own time in service to others. Underprivileged children in a Tijuana orphanage were greatly cheered by a party given for them by the girls. Men in Vietnam looked forward to letters coming from these teens. Needy people were satisfied by food collected at Halloween. We of Troy High School are proud to be able to say the Y-Teen girls belong to our student body.

Faculty Floor Show

The exciting pace of the show was set by Jimmy and the Educators.

The Music Department Trio, consisting of Mr. Young, Mr. Hamlin, and Mrs. Parrish, brought back memories when they played "swing" music from the Forties.

Mr. Hyma brought the house down when he introduced himself with the line, "My name is Ronald Reagan."

Troy's own Frank Sinatra, alias Mr. Beaver, still croons in the hearts of many girls.

As department head, Mr. Johnson played the leading role in the English Department's skit.

The full extent of a teacher's skills is sometimes hidden behind the professional air of the instructor. But in this year's Faculty Floor Show Troy's teaching staff was given the chance to share a broader field of their talents with the pupils without benefit of lecture notes, the overhead projector, or examinations. Little did the student expect his instructor to be a real "swinger" when it came to folk songs, or an absolute comedian as she demonstrated the history of dance, or an upcoming challenger to the leading recording artist.

Those who worked behind the scenes of the production were as successful as the show itself. With twilight as their only lighting, many Interact and International Club members, clad in old jeans and over-sized shirts, were seen diligently painting scenery and building props, as well as selling tickets throughout the community. Mr. Terry, International Club advisor, fitted the classic Hollywood director's part as program chairman for the show. Mr. Beaver, Interact Club advisor, and a natural salesman, was in charge of ticket sales, while Mr. Rogers was a disarming emcee. The show proved to be a success not only as entertainment, but also as a means of raising funds to bring a foreign student to Troy next year.

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Hamlin, Troy's Concert Band and Orchestra finished a very rewarding year. Through many tedious though successful hours of practice, the groups were able to give the public some fine entertainment in our lecture hall. In March both performed at the district festival held at the Fullerton Junior College. Each received a "one" rating in sight reading. The band received the highest rating of any of the thirty-seven groups competing in the two-day contest by receiving the only perfect score given. The orchestra received an "excellent-plus" on its outstanding performance. The band finished the year by having the honor of going to regional competition, and the orchestra wrapped up its season with the spring concert.

Concert Choir was considered one of the top vocal groups at Troy. Students were chosen by the director, Mr. Young, for their ability to sing and read music. The group consisted of sixty members who performed at concerts held on Troy's campus and participated in two festivals: the annual Fullerton District Festival in February, and the Southern California Vocal Association at Garden Grove in May.

Girls' Choir

The musical ability of the Girls' Choir and Concert Choir were considered to be equal. The difference in the two groups was the type of music they chose; the girls being limited to their voice ranges. Girls' Choir was also invited to two festivals and performed along side the Concert Choir at concerts and assemblies held on the campus.

Madrigals go to Las Vegas

The Madrigals at Troy were an elite group composed of sixteen juniors and seniors under the dedicated direction of Mr. Young. These singers were chosen because of the quality, blend and balance found in their voices. Practice was held before school, three days a week. The Madrigals performed throughout Orange County at meetings and dinners. The participated in assemblies, concerts and festivals and even organized an Invitational Madrigal Festival at Troy. The year was climaxed by acceptance of an invitation to sing at Las Vegas during Easter vacation for the Music Educators' National Conference, an honor gained by competing with groups from five states.

The group gathered in the lobby before performance time.

In preparation for a concert the group held a quick warm up.

Musical Concerts

Troy's student body was provided with the opportunity to hear the many vocal and instrumental groups throughout the year. Concerts were held, with all groups performing, in conjunction with the four seasons. The Fall and Spring Concerts were held in the Lecture Hall, the Christmas Concert in a decorated gym and the year ended with the annual Moms and Pops Concert. The musical groups also performed at various times in assemblies, with guest performers, at recitals, and at weeknight informal presentations.

Apprentice Madrigals

The decision to form an Apprentice Madrigal group was a new one this year. Chosen on the same basis as the Madrigals, these juniors, sophomores and freshmen prepared their voices for the hard work and the responsibilities necessary to replace the senior Madrigals. Practice was held before school on alternating days with the Madrigals, although the two groups practiced many selections together.

The Music Club has proved its existence important to campus life. Its main project was the planning and presentation of the student talent show which will long be remembered. Other functions of the Music Club were hosting and ushering for numerous music festivals, concerts and recitals held at Troy. The Club also sponsored a reunion for all the students who worked in the production of "Carousel." The Music Club has grown in number and spirit and has become an important part of campus activity.

The Madrigals sang at a Christmas concert held in the lecture hall.

All the music groups performed in a Christmas concert for the parents.

Assemblies

Students stood for the Alma Mater after a music assembly.

Students looked forward to assemblies that interrupted the routine school day and made school life more interesting. During football season pep assemblies were "in" as the Yell and Song Leaders led yells and the Drill Team performed to promote school spirit. In December, the annual Christmas assembly was performed by the music department, aided by the "talented" faculty who joined in to sing the finale, the "Hallelujah Chorus." The student body enjoyed the music of the Cal State Concert Choir for one assembly in January. The John Goddard assembly, a presentation of Mr. Goddard's trip through South America, was especially enjoyed by the Seniors, who saw it live in the lecture hall rather than on television with the rest of the student body. The faculty talent show, in March, was one of the highlights of the year. The student talent show, a fine example of real talent, surprised and impressed the student body. The year ended with a school awards assembly. It was assemblies like these that made the school days shorter and more interesting.

The faculty sang the "Hallelujah Chorus" in the Christmas assembly.

Lynn Launer sang at the student talent show.

The spirited drill team added to many pep assemblies.

Harlem Clowns

The Harlem Clowns comprise a basketball team that specializes in comedy.

Mr. Bartholome made a strained effort to break clear.

Early in April Troy students had the unusual experience of watching the Harlem Clowns basketball team play the Faculty. It was soon discovered that the Clowns' rules of play were quite different from the usual regulations. Shooting from all kinds of awkward positions, the Clowns still managed to make baskets. They tried such antics as hiding the ball in their jerseys and dared to "argue" with the referees. The Faculty soon entered the spirit of the game and "anything goes" prevailed upon the floor.

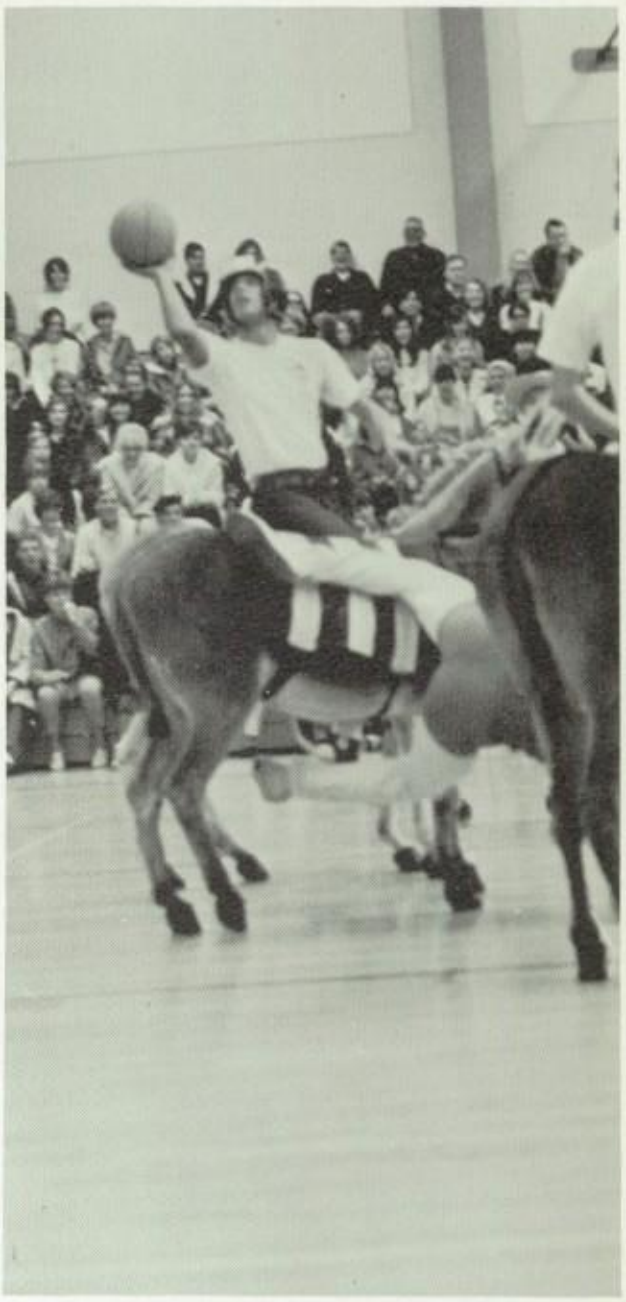
After emphasizing fair play all year, the coaches had to play "anything goes" against the Clowns.

This is only one example of the varied techniques used by the Clowns to make baskets.

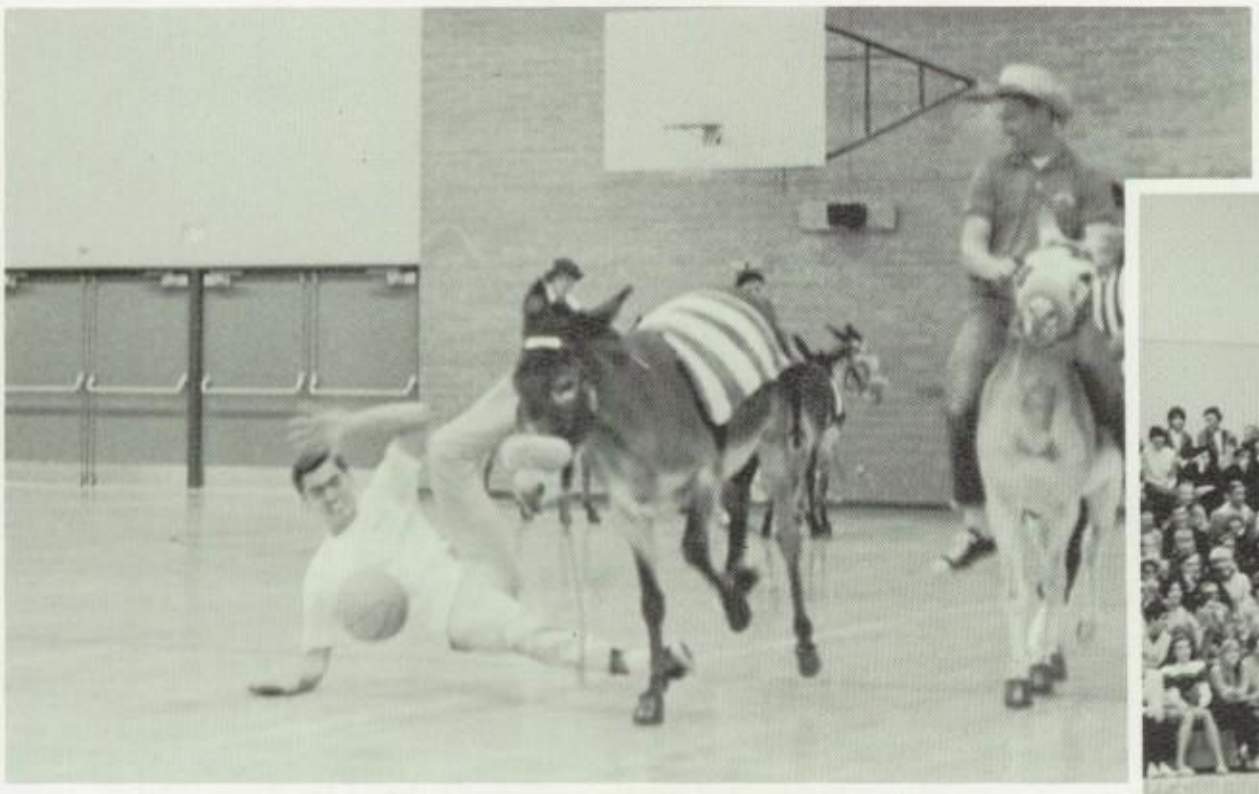
Acrobatics like this spectacular flip kept the audience in a constant uproar.

Donkey Basketball

On the night of March 13 members of the Varsity Club and the Faculty flew all around the gym both on and off of their donkeys. The crowd broke up with laughter as players and donkeys fought each other in their efforts to play basketball. The Faculty were the victors when the bruised teams finally retired for the evening.



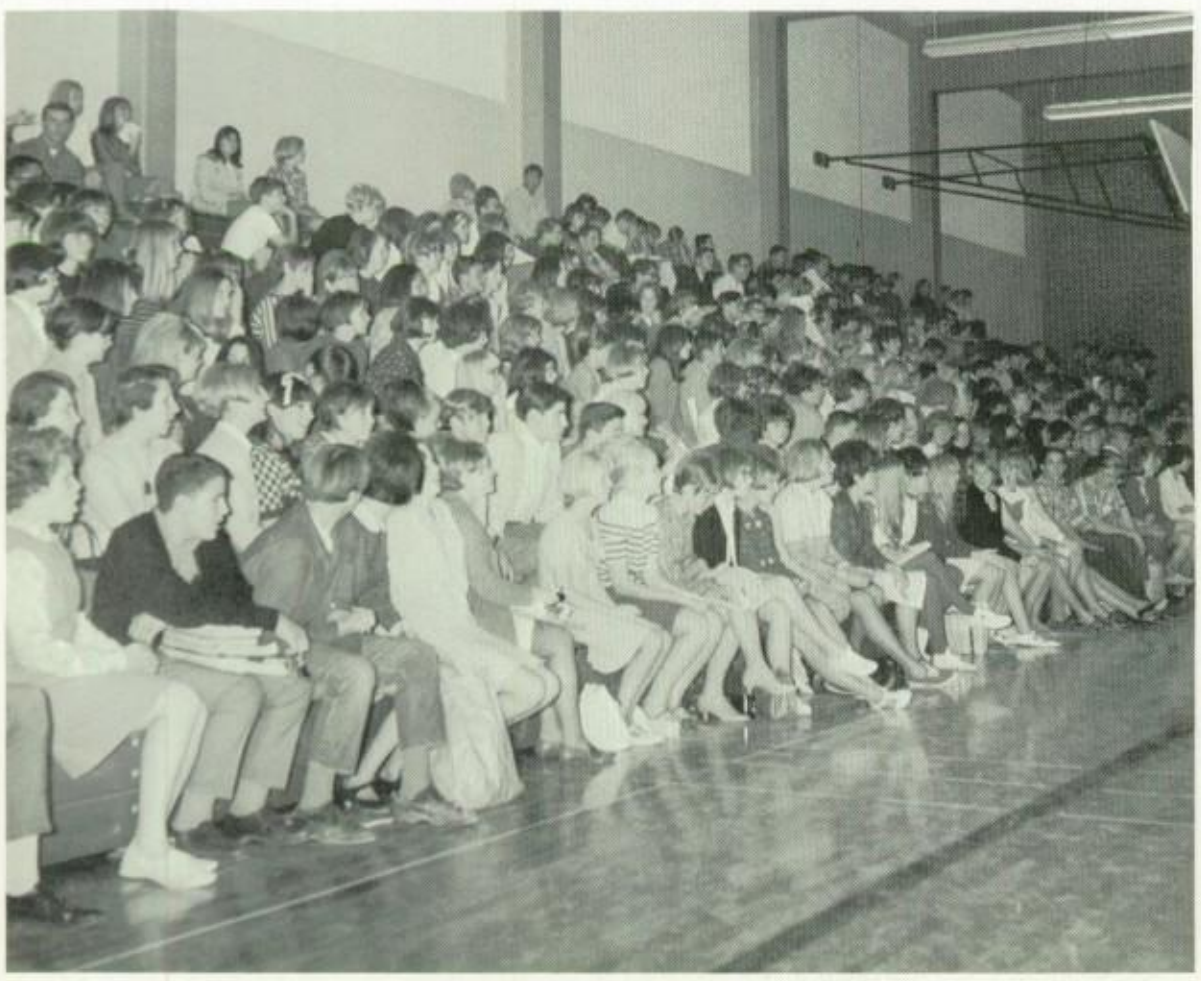
The helmet was a good idea, for the players gained more bruises than baskets.



Jess Halverstadt took a bone-jarring spill while Coach Zehntner just laughed.

The donkeys were entirely unbiased; they threw everyone.

Scenes From



1967

The jealousy of a servant girl, turned out by her lover, is the beginning of the horrifying events in "The Crucible" by Arthur Miller.

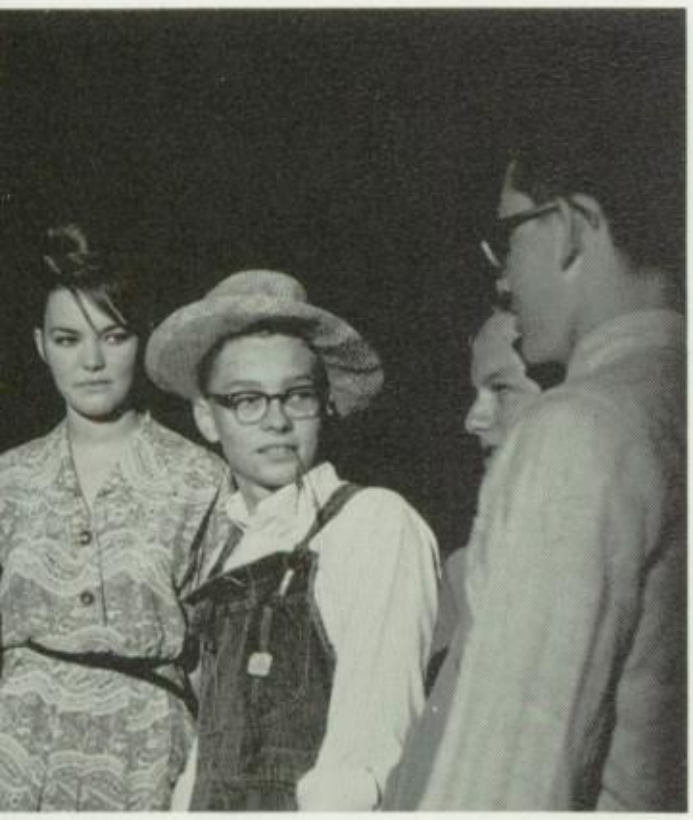
The finale of the Advanced Drama Pantomime show was a spoof on our Madrigal singers.

This ridiculous scene was from the Drama II production of the "$99,000 Answer."

"The Corn Is Green" by Emilyn Williams was presented as the Spring Play. It portrayed, in a warm, sentimental manner, the author's childhood in Wales and the story of how a devoted teacher changed his life.

Drama

The year was enriched by the many and varied performances of Troy's talented drama students. First year students put on a delightful presentation of "Alice in Wonderland" and invited the public to attend. Other performances were the Spring Play, "The Corn Is Green," and the earlier Advanced Drama production of "The Crucible." But whatever the play, students took full advantage of our excellent drama department and gained experience in acting, directing and the many backstage crafts.



The fourth period Drama class enacted scenes from "The Lottery," a play depicting a terrifying yearly ritual sacrifice in a seemingly quiet New England village.

The Thespians presented an original satire, the "Radio Free Oz Review," which showed some of Troy's most hilarious people at their funniest.

Future Teachers

Juanita Mondrola showed Anna Tashner and Karen Robbins how the audio-visual equipment operated.

The Future Teachers Club is composed of students who plan to become teachers after college. Their interests are in several different areas of teaching, ranging from Physical Education to World History. In April they sponsored a Senior Teach Day, where students went into various classes for a class period, prepared a lesson, and took the place of the regular teacher. It turned out to be quite an experience for all.

The Humanities Club was formed with the intent to broaden the minds of students along the cultural level. In doing so they saw "The Marriage of Figero" at the Hollywood Music Center, and the Academy Award winning movie "A Man For All Seasons." The club was newly formed this year and the prospects look good for it in the coming years.

Art Club

Putting their talents to work, the Art Club, one of the most selective groups on campus, was responsible for the gaily painted store windows seen at Christmas time. Numerous jaunts to art shows held at Muckenthaler Center in Fullerton, where this group picture was taken, added a touch of culture to club activities. The year ended on a frivolous note, when the club sponsored Troy's first kite flying contest, which was won by Bob Galusha.

Carousel

Jan Levin as Mrs. Mullin lured Bob Cudeck as Billy back while Tracy Tubbs and Sharon Morrow as Carrie and Julie looked on.

"Our hearts are warm, our bellies are full and we are feeling prime. This was a real nice clambake, and we all had a real good time." As these last lines were sung, the curtain at Plummer Auditorium fell down on what was one of the most successful high school endeavors in the history of Fullerton. During the first summer school session of 1966, Troy's Summer Musical Production Workshop produced Rodgers and Hammerstein's Carousel under the supervision and direction of Mr. Thomas Moore, Mr. James Young, Mr. Thomas Kaney and Mr. Thomas Hewitson.

The Carousel "family" began rehearsals the first week of summer school. Days and nights were spent within the confines of Plummer Auditorium rehearsing scenes, music and making scenery. So much time was spent at Plummer that a typical actor's lunch was rumored to be an Orange Julius and pine needles. The entire effort culminated in three spectacular performances which played to capacity audiences.

Mr. Moore and Mr. Kaney in heaven.

The cast sang "You'll Never Walk Alone."

Darlene Warner as Mrs. Mullins, Jay Kavoian as Billy, Chris Candelaria as Julie, and Lynn Launer as Carrie, headed the second night cast.

Plans were made for the clambake.

We're From Troy

Within the walls of Troy things are not yet old and established, nor is our heritage filled with glory from the past. Troy is young, fresh and inexperienced. School traditions are still in the process of being formed. Yet even with our modern and somewhat controversial methods of teaching, many young and inexperienced teachers and coaches and a new principal . . . Troy somehow seemed to come out first in many fields. The secret pride of being a member of a tremendous student body was shared daily in the glowing enthusiasm to excel in all activities on campus. This could be labeled the spirit of Troy . . . the essence of our daily lives at school. It was a good year, filled with success and sorrow. And as Troy launches its first graduating class into the hazy future . . . let the name Troy High represent the best.

Troy Takes "City Championship"

Troy's varsity football team finished its season winning 5 and losing 4, with a third place standing in the Freeway League. The two pre-season games resulted with a win over Estancia 14 to 6 and a loss to Neff 14 to 0. The team went on to win their first league game over Lowell 14 to 0. However, Troy was defeated by the top three contenders in the league, losing to La Habra 13 to 6, Magnolia 26 to 0, and to Savanna 13 to 6. The Warriors then came back with a win over Buena Park 21 to 7. In a big game of the season TROY WAS VICTORIOUS OVER SUNNY HILLS 19 to 6. The game that the Warriors had been waiting for finally arrived and TROY BEAT FULLERTON 25 to 6. Troy's offense received the credit due for the victories, but much of the success of our team was due to one of the finest defensive lines in the county. Two of the team members, Ted Nelson and Ken Quinn, made first string All League. Of course no team can function without leadership and this year the varsity team was under the guidance of a new head man, Coach Gibbs and his staff, Coach Test on the line, and back coaches Curtis and Sipple.

Fullback Ken Quinn moves to the outside for needed yardage against hard hitting Magnolia.

Ball carrier Steve McChesney maneuvers himself out of the reach of the opponents.

With full steam ahead, Ken Quinn rushes across the field in the unforgettable Fullerton game.

All-league Ken Quinn plows through the Sunny Hills defensive line.

Fullerton found Jeff Miller, a promising Sophomore, hard to bring down.

The three years of hard work that went into the making of this football team paid off with Troy taking the mythical "City Championship." The stands were filled with Troy students at both the Sunny Hills and Fullerton games, yelling the team on to victory. Then as the crowd filed from the field the cry "It's all over" filled the air and continued to the Troy parking lot and accompanied the team from the bus to the locker room. The red and white balloons, the great half-time shows, the hoarse voice and that cold weather that was overcome with a warm feeling of being a Warrior, were all a part of the 1966-1967 football season . . . and it was one that shall not be soon forgotten.

The song and yell leaders this year have been a hard working bunch. Often they have been seen practicing on the slab until eight p.m. It has always paid off well, though, in that they have come up with original things as the cowboy and the Indian performance they gave the entire week before the big game with Fullerton, and the competition yells they sponsored between the classes to see who had the most spirit (or the loudest voices). They have given quite a bit of themselves for Troy and we give them our sincerest thanks for making Troy a little bit better. They're gr-r-reat.

The Warriorettes played an active part in inspiring spirit at Troy this year. Every Friday, members wearing their colorful plaid jump-suits could be spotted taking the lead in cheering at the rallies. Although they formed the largest drill team in the League, every girl was highly skilled in the precision of marching. No one can forget the outstanding half-time performances put on by these hard-working girls. Their restyled uniforms and unique routines must be commended as one of the best seen this season. Marching Band

This year, as in the past, Troy's Marching Band, under the direction of Mr. David Hamlin, was excellent. They were combined with the Drill Team to present the outstanding half-time shows at all Troy's home games.

The colorful half-time shows were the result of much time and energy that the band put into their practices every day after school. Although the band was voluntary, it numbered up to sixty-six and was able to perform with expert precision and timing.

Junior Varsity Football

The Junior Varsity Football Team had an excellent season this year. Losing only two games, Troy at Magnolia 39-0 and Savanna at Troy 34-32, the team won the rest of their games against Estancia 39-0, Fullerton 38-0, Lowell 39-0, La Habra 14-7, and Sunny Hills 39-0 to place first in the city. The three Junior Varsity Coaches, Test, Sipple, and Curtis said they were pleased with the Team's performance this season and expect an even better one next year.

It is usually somewhat of a handicap to a team when it must enter a new league; not having faced the opposition before and therefore not knowing what to expect. But with skill and determination and the outstanding coaching ability of Mr. George Vallance and Mr. Jim Higgins, Troy's Bee football team maintained the first place position in the league all season. With a team standing of nine wins and no losses, Troy's Bee team walked away with the Freeway League championship.

The efforts of more than forty boys working together as one team proved to be meritorious this year as Troy's Cee football team captured the first place title in the Freeway League. The coaches, Mr. Jerry Hulbert and Mr. Gary Pickens led the team to their winning record of six wins, no losses, and three ties. The many sophomores on the team showed tremendous leadership as well as experienced playing ability. The most valuable player on the squad was Phil Middlemiss, Sophomore halfback. Ken Johnson, wingback, was selected as the most improved player of the year.

Effortless tackles gave more yardage to the Warriors.

Cross Country has neither the colorful attraction of football nor the audience but it is nevertheless a difficult and challenging sport. The training for the two mile event usually means running an average of four to five miles a day and some days the boys must jog as much as eight miles up along the scenic Skyline hill course.

This year the boys worked particularly hard and were rewarded with victory over Buena Park and Fullerton in both Varsity and J.V. divisions. The two boys who received awards for their outstanding performances were Randy Ice, most inspirational player, and Chris Wilson, most valuable player.

The Cross Country rooting section was small but greatly appreciated.

The twelve boys who made up Troy's Varsity Water Polo team worked hard to make the 1966 season a good one. They began by taking third place in the well-fought Valencia Tournament. Then in the League games Troy was shown to be a formidable opponent as our boys swamped Savanna and Buena Park. In an exciting game against Lowell, Troy kept the audience on edge as the score advantage shifted back and forth; Lowell winning by a slim 8-7 margin. It was the last game against Fullerton's Indians which proved the never-die spirit of the Warrior athletes. At the half-time the score stood 1-5 for Fullerton but the team rallied its strength and made an astounding recovery—when the gun sounded Troy lost by a score of 10 to 6. Although they did not win the League, in terms of team spirit, these boys have upheld the Troy tradition.

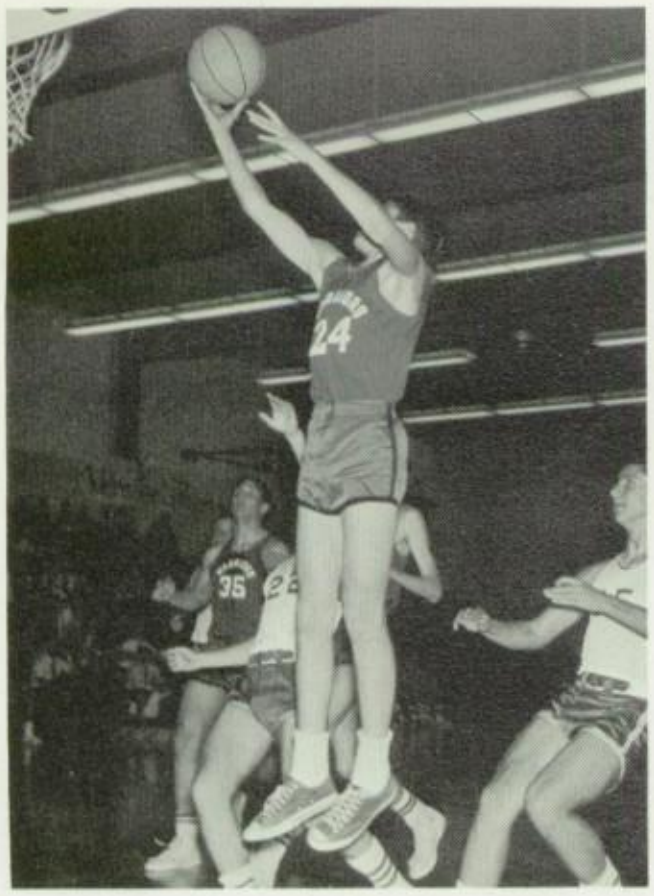
Varsity Action

As a triumphant football season came to a close, the Varsity basketball team had already started its long and strenuous workouts. The pre-season games and the two tournaments helped to build the confidence needed to start the season. This year the team was under the fine leadership of Coach Hulbert and, although this was his first year as varsity coach, by midseason the team had a strong foothold in the Freeway League competition. (See page 164 for end of the season results.)

Forward Ken Quinn tried to steal the ball away with team mates Bob Baker, Mark Sheddon and Jess Halverstadt close at hand.

With time out called, Coach Hulbert explained team strategy while the boys took a rest.

Awaiting the tip-off at the Fullerton game were Ken Quinn, Marc Miller and Norm Aufderheide.



Tom Gregory jumped high for a rebound with team mate Ken Lawyer close at hand.

Anticipating a blocked basket, J.V. team members prepared to recover the ball.

Junior Varsity Basketball

Halfway through League play, the Junior Varsity team had established a fine record of six wins and two losses under the guidance of Coach Pickens. With ten of the fourteen Varsity members graduating, the knowledge and experience gained by this team will assure Troy of having a hard hitting Varsity squad next year.

Wrestling

The '66-'67 Varsity and Junior Varsity Wrestling teams maintained the mark of excellence that was set by last year's teams. These high standards were the results of both the willingness to work hard and the excellent advice of the coaches.

Wrestling is one sport where each member of the team battles for victory without the help of his teammates. He depends on skills that he has gained through experience, daily practice and the knowledge he has gained from the coaches.

Another important factor in wrestling is that there is continual competition among the ranks of the sixty team members. At any time during the season one of the sixty can move up to the position of Varsity or Junior Varsity by defeating an opponent in his own weight class.

The highest goal that a team member can obtain is to qualify for C.I.F.

Troy has had some very enthusiastic athletes to represent it in the Varsity, Bee, and Cee swim teams during the 1967 season. Their rigorous work-outs before and after school clearly paid off in such meets as those with Sonora and Lowell where the home teams scored high above their opponents. Although not usually considered a "spectator" sport, the swim meets offered much excitement to those students who came to watch and cheer the boys on.

Coaches Curtis, Sipple, and Higgins.

This season the track team increased its ranks from last year's sixty-eight to eighty. The growth increased the high level of athletic competition and spirit already existing within the team.

The track team put in long, hard hours preparing for a tough league season. The dedication and willingness for hard, diligent work established it as an outstanding team and placed Troy in competition for a top position in the Freeway League.

Coaches Sipple, Curtis, and Higgins were enthusiastic about the team's performance for the season and looked forward to a successful year.

J.V. Baseball

This year's J.V. Baseball team entered league competition with an undefeated record in all preliminary games. The boys, as well as Coach Gary Pickens, were determined to bring home honors to the Warrior baseball records. Each boy learned the importance of teamwork; carrying not only his own responsibility, but that of the whole team. During a game, the boys concentrated completely on the actions of their opponents, which brought about an easy downfall for most of their opposition. It was such alertness, concern, determination, and school spirit which led to an excellent season for the J.V. team.

Good batting technique was essential to the many victories.

Many days of energetic practice and a strong desire to win brought the J.V. team well into the season with a record of ten wins and one loss.

Freshman-Sophomore Baseball

The Freshman-Sophomore baseball team was established this year for the purpose of preparing the boys for their future years playing Varsity or J.V. baseball. Under the direction of Coach Jerry Hulbert, the boys improved their basic skills in baseball and learned the importance of team work as well. The successful season of the team showed the Warriors that there will be many excellent baseball seasons ahead with these boys on the teams.

With the pressures of league competition upon them, the pitchers warmed up before the important game.

Sports Wrap-Up

The Varsity Wrestling team had an excellent season, winning fourteen and losing two. (This number includes pre-season matches.) Eight of the team members qualified for C.I.F.; Bob Reynolds, Bill Lingenfelder, Dennis Adams, Dave Blasdell, Bill Scott, Mike Baugh and Wayne Mann, who made the semi-finals, and Duane Parsons, who made the finals. The season ended with a sports awards presentation in the lecture hall. Team captain Duane Parsons was chosen the most valuable player. Mike Baugh received a trophy for the most inspirational team member.

The Varsity Basketball team also had a rewarding season, winning eight and losing six. The last four games of the season were prime examples of how close the teams were in ability. Troy won a close game to big, hard-hitting Savanna and then lost to Buena Park in overtime. The next game, against Sunny Hills, was lost by two points, but we came back with a big victory over our city rival, Fullerton. Ken Quinn was chosen most valuable player, and Mark Sheddon received an award as team captain.

Pep Club

Troy Warriors never lacked interesting reading material, thanks to the efforts of the Pep Club. Almost weekly, the campus was camouflaged by unusual posters publicizing games, rallies, and dances. The Pep Club backed up various activities of other service clubs—such as the Booster Club's Breakfast and the purchasing of the weight machine by Varsity Club. They were also responsible for promoting sales of Troy sweatshirts.

The enthusiasm of the Pep Club was apparent throughout the entire year, and their efforts to encourage students to attend sports events were appreciated by all the Warrior athletics.

No summary of the activities at Troy would be complete without mentioning the efforts of the Varsity Club to purchase a weight machine. The boys sponsored many of the most exciting events of the past year—such as the Donkey and Harlem Clowns' basketball games.

The Varsity Club members have worked hard to establish traditions and a firm foundation for future members. The qualifications for membership are quite fair—any sports-minded boy interested in joining has only to obtain 14 points in any sport or combination of sports.

In terms of inspiring school spirit in the student body and for really administering to the needs of Troy, the Varsity Club must be commended for doing more than their share.

The 1967 G.A.A. Dance Concert, "Unchained Movement," was held on Friday night, April 28 in the Lecture Hall. Girls who participated in the program were either members of the first period Modern Dance Class or participants in the after-school G.A.A. Dance program. The advisor to the production, Mrs. Paegle, helped with all the dances. Some of the dances presented were:

During this past year, the girls who participated in the G.A.A. Softball teams had a tremendous amount of fun. They were taught the rudiments of the game by their advisor, Mrs. Walters.

Another of the many after-school sports that Troy girls were able to participate in was Track and Field, under the guidance of Mrs. Nelson. Unfortunately, the Annual Staff was not able to get any pictures of the girls out for track, but they could be seen practicing occasionally.

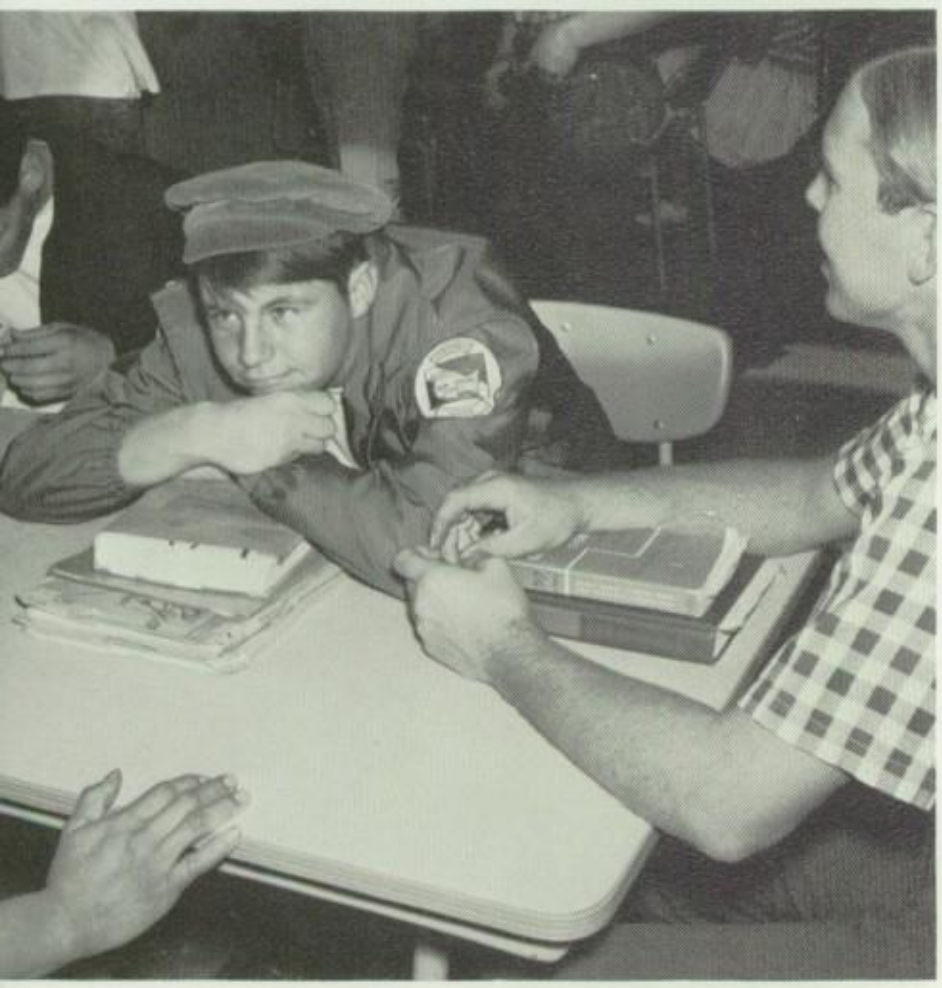
Seniors



Dedication

The Senior year is the epitome of high school life. It is the long-awaited time when a class finally takes the reins of student leadership and steps into a position of authority and responsibility. In some schools being a Senior means Senior Privileges, such as getting out of assemblies first, having longer lunch hours, or having special vending machines. But here at Troy things are different. The members of our first graduating class have been "seniors" for three years and the special privileges that other schools have demanded are not really too important to them. In fact, a quick analysis of Troy's social structure reveals that the relationship of the Senior Class to the other classes is rather unique. There is, perhaps, less class loyalty and, as a result, less class unity. Instead we have a variety of factions, crossing class lines, and reflecting a unity of interests rather than of age.

Being the first graduating class, the Seniors have been especially conscious that they are setting the precedent for Troy's academic standing in the various colleges and universities. And yet in the last quarters, grades tended to flounder and "Senioritis" reached an epidemic level. The various cliques discovered a bond in their common scholastic apathy, a factor which encouraged last moment friendships among people who would never have been acquaintances otherwise.

Although the Senior Class is not unified in the traditional sense, the class has shared the unique experience of building a school from "scratch" and watching it grow as a result of their own work. Yet, it might be asked, in what way is the Senior Class different from the Junior Class—both have been at Troy for the same three years. The difference is that most of the Seniors spent their Freshman year at Fullerton Union High School. Many of them did not want to leave Fullerton and once at Troy they put up with a lot of ridicule because Troy was not a four-year high school. It was because of this that the student body, and in particular the Seniors, felt such an intense degree of competition before the football game with Fullerton. To the Seniors, this victory over Fullerton was the symbol of Troy having finally achieved maturity.

Thus it is to the Seniors that we dedicate the 1966-67 Ilium, knowing that when they leave they will take an integral part of Troy, as we have known it for the past three years. The kaleidescope of influencing forces which shape the essence of our school will certainly shift, but the effect of the 1967 Senior Class will always be felt.

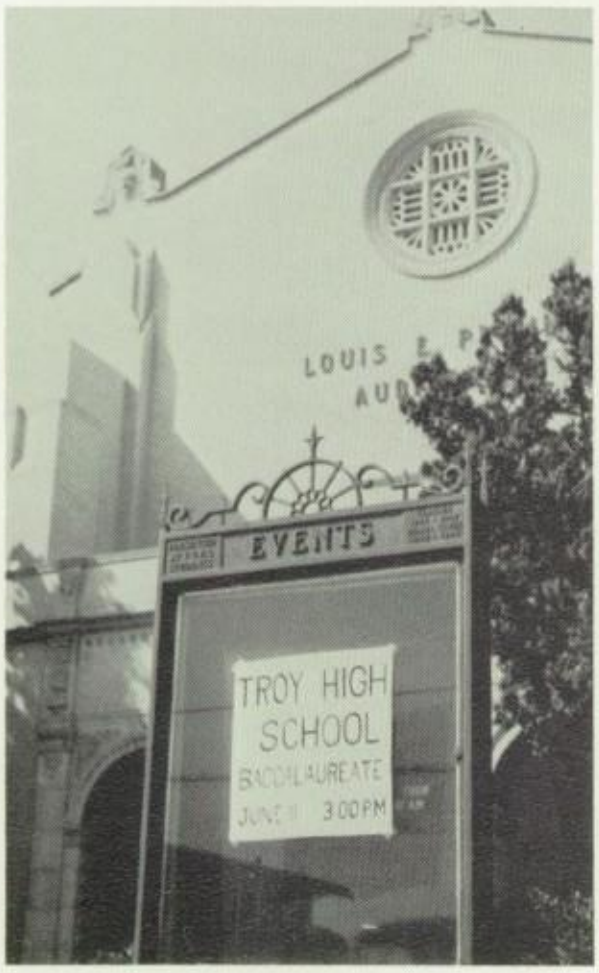
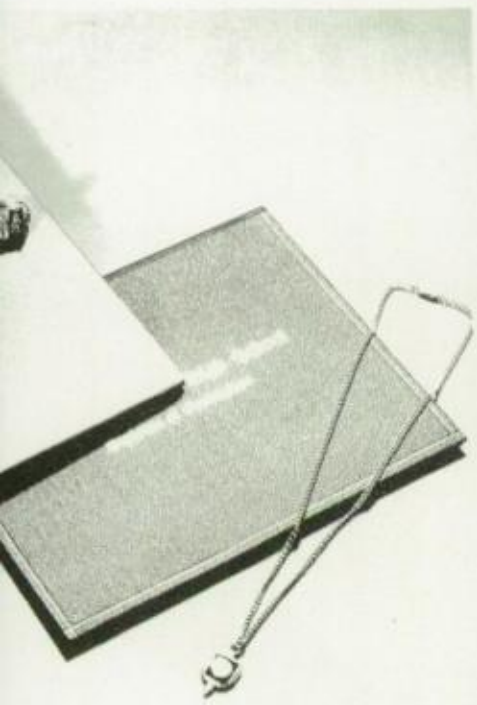
Troy's first Senior class graduated at the Cal State gym on the night of June 16.

Baccalaureate was held June 11 at Louis E. Plummer Auditorium.





Graduation

Although we are not always conscious of it, our entire high school life is focused on Graduation. Even the most disinclined student struggles for the passing grade that secures his diploma and insures him a better chance for success.

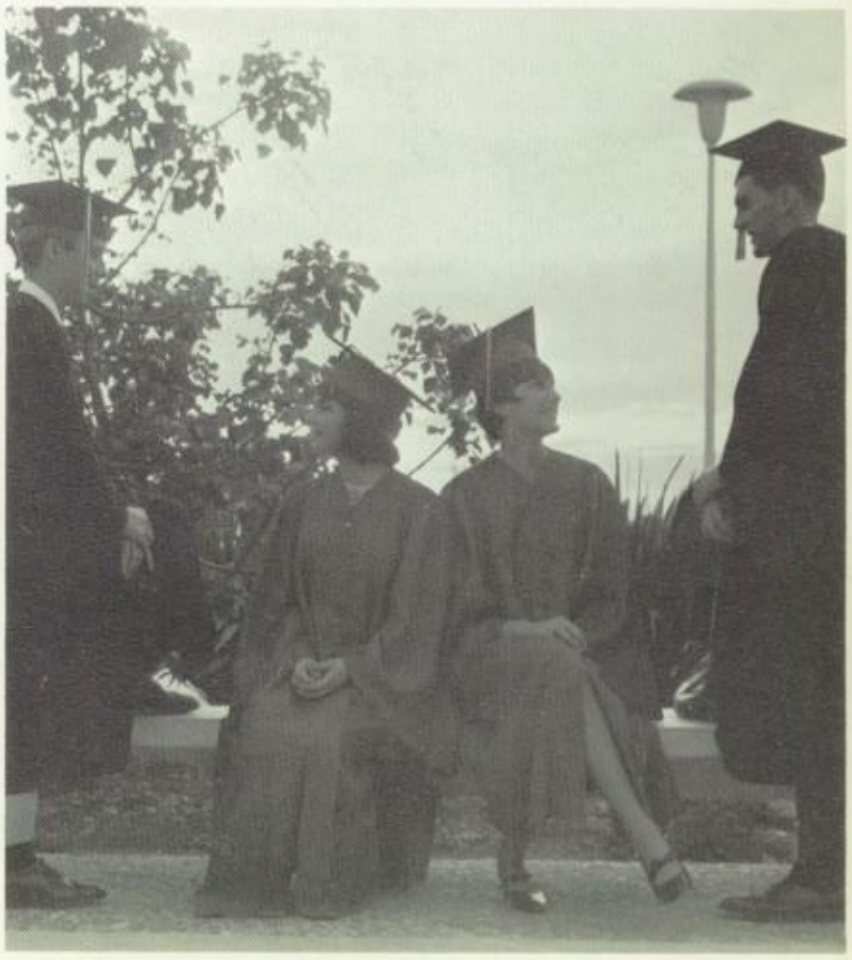
Troy reflected every other high schol campus this spring as its first graduating class prepared excitedly for Commencement. The fittings for caps and gowns, the ordering of Graduation announcements and the applications for colleges and jobs were a prelude to the end of their adolescent life and the beginning of their acceptance of adult responsibilities. To many Troy Seniors, Graduation will always bring to mind memories of "Senioritis" and apprehension, tinted with the excitement of being youth on the threshold of adulthood.

PICKWICK

Recreation

Center

The all-night graduation party was at Pickwick Recreation Center in Burbank.



Seniors spend a quiet moment contemplating the future.

The future is for men who dare to have great expectations; who—with the guidance and encouragement of all the people for whom they strive—will also have the courage, the persistence, the wisdom, the patience to transform those expectations into realities.
